

Brooklyn Letterboxing/Treasure Hunt Course For Kids

By Brooklyn Girl Scout Troop 65059

- Drive and park at the Donald Francis Park, at Prince Hill Road/Route 6 Brooklyn, CT
- Walk towards the Prince's tennis courts at the back of the park.
- Stay walking to the left side of the Prince's courts to the end of them.
- From the end corner, walk about twenty steps forward until you see the big bush. Look at the base, where it starts. Now your adventure begins.
- Turn left and look for the troll bridge. Walk to the bridge.
- At the end of the troll bridge, step off and look for the troll's buried treasure underneath! Be careful, he might bite!
- After collecting the letterbox, walk to the stonewall and pass through the castle gates.
- Follow the blue trail, marked on the trees, up the hill.
- Stop at the uprooted cedar tree. Look up and see the criss-cross tree to make sure you're in the right spot. Look in the cedar roots. Remember, it's on the ground!
- Go right to dodge the tree. Now look for the next bridge.
- There is no troll there, so when you get to the bridge, cross it and turn left.
- Have a picnic at the old hidden picnic table in the woods.
- After picnicking, continue on the trail past the pond.
- Walk through the double pine gates and look left. Take twenty steps to the fallen tree.
- Go back to the trail and find the 6-limbed "spider" tree. Walk on.
- Follow the trail to the "W" tree. Look near the pointing finger at the back.

- Continue on the trail past the ogre bog with turquoise tube.
- Pass the two tree path island then look for the tree on the right with the blue spot. Look to the right for the biggest possible tree off in the woods.
- Go to it and look behind.
- Walk back to the trail and the blue spot tree and continue down the path.
- Walk through The Prince's castle wall.
- Come to a place where the path splits. Look for a gate between stonewalls.
- Go to the stone wall on the ends to find the Prince's treasure
- Go back and up the gravel mountain.
- You're at Prince Hill!
- Before you get to the field, look for the wolf den of rocks to the left. Remember, this is BEFORE the gate to Prince Hill. Inspect the den. Hopefully there are no wolves at home!
- Now you can go back to the castle the way you came!
