Hello Margaret,

Attached a couple photos taken around 2:30 today - Friday 4/16.
Considerable amount of sediment - I don't know if it is stone dust washing off of all the stone placed recently or still some silt coming through, or a combination of both. Have both grey and tan colors in there.
Hope the next storm will prove to be better - I don't consider this one a pass yet.
Please feel free to reach out to discuss.

Regards,
Joe Szarkowicz
