Thank you for your interest in a complete communication solution and for trusting Apex Communications to serve your needs. We are honored to be able to help you with the design and implementation of this most important project. In preparing this, Apex has striven to understand the needs and issues of the schools, so that we can offer a solution that helps improve your communications – on your terms.

It's with these needs in mind that we have assembled a communications solution made specifically for your school system, focused on providing multiple competitive advantages at an affordable price. Whether it's providing all-in-one solutions with a choice of communications platforms or adding value with mobility applications such as hot-desking, mobile extension, or call reporting, Apex is committed to helping you succeed.

Telephone System

Our suggestion for a communication system would be replacing the phone system with the latest NS700 platform from Panasonic. This is an extremely robust all in one solution that can accommodate a wide array of configurations. This highly scalable platform will allow you expand as your needs do. This system also includes access to Panasonic's award winning Communication Assistant desktop collaboration software. This will be available to all end users and enables camera pop-ups for door phone calls. The NS700 has advanced features available like "bring your own device" to utilize existing WiFi. SIP Apps on a cell phone can be registered to the phone system as an extension.

The Voice Processing System is embedded into the NS700 and can grow as the needs of the school grow. This all in one system is expandable through licenses. The system will have the capacity for (500) mailboxes and (6) ports with unified features such as e-mail integration, remote notification and automated attendant, and will be completely customized to your needs. This system will also give you the capability to receive your voice mails as e-mails.
